Student Loan Repayment and Default

Student loans are a great way to pay for your education, however, at some point, they must be paid back. Do not borrow more than is necessary to pay for college. Rather than getting student loans, think about getting a part-time job or applying for work study. If you do decide that you need a student loan, remember that you are responsible for repaying your loans with any interest that accrues.

If you find that your student loan payments are more than you can afford, contact your servicer to ask about different repayment plans and the possibility of delaying your loan payments for a time. Your servicer can tell you the qualifications for each option. Your servicer can help you through the repayment process. If you cannot remember who your loan servicer is, you can find a list of your federal student loans and servicer information at www.nslds.ed.gov. (Please note: You may have more than one federal student loan servicer. Recently received loans and recent activity on loans may not yet be reflected on NSLDS. Also, private student loan information will not be listed on NSLDS.)

Student loan default has consequences that could impact you in a very negative way.

You could suffer from the following effects of student loan default.

- No more federal financial aid
- Wages taken
- Income tax returns taken
- Lottery winnings taken
- Department of Education could sue
- Social Security taken
- Credit score/report reflects non-payback
- Interest rates when buying a house or car due to low credit score may be higher

To learn more about the possible effects of student loan default, visit <https://studentaid.ed.gov/repay-loans/default>.
